Objective:

My name is Paris Coman, and I am a digital designer who loves turning ideas into visuals that actually connect with people. I have two Bachelor degrees in Web Design and Business Management, and I use those to run my own design practice where I work on UI and UX, Branding, and other Visual Identities needed for growing brands. I am driven by creativity, meaningful storytelling, and ethical design. I focus on work that feels intentional, accessible, and generally useful.
